FORTY-THIRD REPORT
OF THE
INSPECTOR
OF
REFORMATORY AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS
IN IRELAND.

TO THE
RIGHT HON. WALTER HUME LONG, P.C., M.P.,
CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE LORD LIEUTENANT OF IRELAND.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR OF REFORMATORY
AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS,
DUBLIN CASTLE,

4th August, 1905.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit to you the Annual Report on the Reformatory and Industrial Schools in Ireland for the year ending 31st December, 1904.

The number of Schools under inspection at the beginning of last year was—5 Reformatories, and 67 Industrial Schools.

All the Schools received at least one formal visit during the year, and to the majority of them one or more surprise visits were made as well.

REFORMATORIES.

There were 5 Reformatory Schools in Ireland at the end of the year 1904.

2 for Roman Catholic Boys.

2 " " Girls.

1 for Protestant Boys.

The total number under order of detention in Roman Catholic Schools on the 31st December, 1904, was 447. Of this number

405 were boys and only 42 girls. They were distributed amongst the Schools as follows:—

Philipstown (Boys),	256
Glencree (Boys),	149
Highpark, Dublin (Girls),	19
Limerick (Girls),	23
Total,	447

In the Malone Reformatory, Belfast, for Protestant boys, there were 115 juveniles under order of detention on the 31st December, 1904.

The following statement shows the number of juveniles, male and female, on the rolls of Reformatory Schools on the 31st December, 1903, and on the 31st December, 1904.

	On 31st December, 1903.			On 31st December, 1904.

In School—sentence expired, .	-	-	-	-	-	-
Total,	501	49	550	520	42	562

From this Table it appears that the total number under order of detention at the end of the year 1904 was 562, or 6 over the number at the close of the preceding year. There is an increase of 13 boys and a decrease of 7 girls for the year 1904 as compared with 1903. Three of those on the rolls at the close of 1904 had absconded with sentence unexpired.

The number of admissions to Reformatories during the year was 129, which shows an increase of 5 over the number admitted in 1903. The number of boys admitted in 1904 was 119, being an increase of one over the admissions in the preceding year. In my last Report I was able to record the fact that the number of girls committed in 1903 was the smallest number sent in any one year to Reformatory Schools in Ireland. The number of girls admitted in 1904 was 10, which, although an increase of 4 over the admissions in 1903, is still below the average.

The following tabular statement gives the number admitted to each Reformatory School for the year 1904, and for each of the preceding ten years:—

Year.	REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.
	Boys.			Girls.				Total.
	Malone, Belfast.	Philips-town, King's Co.	Glenoree Co. Wicklow.	Cork-street, Dublin.	High Park, Dublin.	Limerick.	Sparks Lake, Monaghan.	Boys. Girls.

* This Reformatory was closed on 12th July, 1895.

† This Reformatory was closed on 8th October, 1903.

The number of juveniles admitted into Reformatories in 1904 from the several Cities and Counties, where the committals were made, is set forth in the following Tables:—

—	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Antrim County, ...	3	—	3
Belfast City, ...	30	2	32
Armagh County, ...	1	—	1
Cavan County, ...	—	2	2
Cork County, ...	3	—	3

Donegal County, ...	2	—	2
Down County, ...	2	—	2
Dublin County, ...	4	—	4

Waterford County, ...	1	—	1
Waterford City, ...	2	—	2
Wexford County, ...	3	1	4
Wicklow County, ...	2	—	2
Total, ...	119	10	129

The above summary shows that 72·86 per cent. of the juveniles sent to Reformatories last year were committed from cities. The number sent from Dublin and Belfast was 81 or 62·79 per cent. of the total number committed.

STATE OF INSTRUCTION ON ADMISSION.

Of the 119 boys admitted, 41 could neither read nor write, 74 could read or read and write imperfectly, and 4 could read and write well.

Of the 10 girls admitted, 7 could neither read nor write, and 3 could read or read and write imperfectly.

DISCHARGES.

There were 106 boys and 17 girls discharged in 1904. They were distributed as follows :—

Mode of Discharge.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
To employment or service. . . .	30	14	44
Returned to friends.	46	2	48
Emigrated.	8	1	9
Sent to sea.	1	—	1
Enlisted.	14	—	14
Died.	1	—	1
Absconded—sentence expired. . .	2	—	2
Total.	106	17	123

This Table shows that a large proportion of the boys returned to their friends when they left school, which is not the most satisfactory way of disposing of them. Only 2 of the 17 girls, who were discharged last year, returned to their friends. The number of girls sent to employment or service was 14.

The present circumstances of those discharged last year from each Reformatory School is represented in the following statement under the headings, doing well, not doing well or doubtful, unknown, and since dead :—

The results of Reformatory Schools as regards the character at the end of 1904 of those discharged during the three years 1901, 1902, and 1903, were as follows:—

The total discharged in those three years, omitting deaths, transfers, and illegal committals was 409, viz., boys, 370, and girls, 39. Of these 5 had died, viz., 4 boys and 1 girl, leaving 366 boys and 38 girls to be reported upon.

Of the boys—

344 were doing well.
1 was doubtful.
19 had been convicted.
2 were unknown.

Of the girls—

36 were doing well.
1 was doubtful.
1 was unknown.

The following Table gives the amounts expended under the same headings for each of the two years ending 31st December, 1903 and 1904:—

HEALTH OF INMATES.

The health of the inmates during the year was good. Only one death was recorded, that of a boy who suffered from tuberculosis.

LITERARY TRAINING.

The literary training in Reformatory Schools has on the whole improved during the past year, and the results are quite as good as might be expected, considering the circumstances of the children admitted to these schools.

The programme of work at the different Schools is now more in conformity with that of the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland than it has hitherto been.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

The industrial training given in the Schools is on the whole satisfactory. The different trades are well taught, and in most cases little difficulty is experienced in procuring good places for the boys when they leave school.

Manual instruction and training in the principles and practices of agriculture have been introduced into these Schools, giving results in proportion to the good character of the teaching and the zeal of the Manager in promoting the intelligent and useful training of his boys.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

There were 67 Industrial Schools in Ireland at the end of 1904. They were distributed as follows:—

Boys, Roman Catholic, 18 ; Protestant, 2.
Girls, Roman Catholic, 43 ; Protestant, 3.
Mixed for boys and girls, Roman Catholic, 1.

No change in the constitution of the Schools occurred during the year under review.

The following Table gives the number under order of detention in these Schools on the 31st December, 1903 and 1904.

	On 31st December, 1903.			On 31st December, 1904.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.

Total,	3,814	4,510	8,324	3,862	4,558	8,420

It appears from the foregoing statement that 8,420 children, viz., 3,862 boys and 4,558 girls, were on the rolls of Industrial Schools at the end of last year. Compared with the total number under order of detention at the close of 1903, there is an increase of 48 boys and 48 girls.

Since the close of 1900, when 8,221 children were on the rolls of Industrial Schools, each successive year shows an increase in the number under order of detention as compared with the number in the preceding year.

The following Table shows the number of Roman Catholics and Protestants under order of detention on 31st December, 1904.

	BOYS.			GIRLS.
	Roman Catholics.	Protestants.	Total.	Roman Catholics.	Protestants.	Total.

Total,	3,364	558	3,922	4,174	384	4,558

This Table shows that at the end of last year, 7,478 children were on the rolls of Roman Catholic Schools, and that 942 children were on the rolls of Protestant Schools.

ADMISSIONS.

The total number of children admitted into Industrial Schools last year was 1,352, which shows a decrease of 28 as compared with the admissions for the year 1903.

The number of boys admitted was 643, or 13 below the number for 1903, and the number of girls admitted was 709 or 15 below the number for 1903.

The following Table gives the number of boys and girls admitted for the year 1904 and for each of the preceding ten years.

STATE OF EDUCATION ON ADMISSION.

Of the total number of boys admitted in 1904, 408 could neither read nor write, 220 could read or read and write imperfectly, and 20 could read and write well.

Of the total number of girls committed, 397 could neither read nor write, 269 could read or read and write imperfectly, and 43 could read and write well.

As very young children, who have not yet learned to read and write, are included in the total number returned as illiterate, this number is increased thereby. Accordingly, by making a proper allowance for the young children who, owing to their tender years, had not so far advanced in their education as to be able to read and write when admitted to the schools, it will be found that the record for illiteracy amongst the class, from which Industrial School Children are recruited, will not appear in such a bad light.

DISCHARGES.

The total number discharged from Industrial Schools (excluding transfers) during the year 1904 was 1,260. Of this number 596 were boys, and 664 girls.

They were distributed as follows :—

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
MODE OF DISCHARGE—
To employment or service,	501	434	935

Absconders discharged by expiration of sentence,	3	—	3

Total,	693	664	1,357

The results of Industrial Schools considered with reference to the numbers doing well, doubtful, convicted, and unknown, of those discharged in 1901, 1902, and 1903 were as follows :—

The total discharged in those three years, omitting deaths, transfers, committals to Reformatory Schools, and those discharged on account of insufficient grounds of detention, was 3,663, viz, boys, 1,709 and girls, 1,954. Of this number 73 had since died, viz, 33 boys and 40 girls. There were left 1,676 boys and 1,914 girls to be reported upon.

Of the 1,676 boys—

- 1,546 were doing well.
- 35 were doubtful.
- 3 had been convicted.
- 92 were unknown.

Of the 1,914 girls—

- 1,814 were doing well.
- 21 were doubtful.
- 79 were unknown.

The following Table shows the amounts received during the past two years :—

PARENTAL CONTRIBUTION.

The amount of parental money collected during the year 1904 in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District and in the rest of Ireland from parents, who had children in Reformatories and Industrial Schools, is set forth in the following tabular statement:—

—	Reformatories.	Industrial Schools.	Total.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Dublin Metropolitan Police District.	258 13 6	229 15 10	498 0 6
Provinces, . . .	194 8 2	837 0 2	1,031 14 4
Total, . . .	453 1 8	1,077 2 0	1,530 3 8

In the year 1903 the total amount collected was £1,492 10s. 9d., of which £479 9s. 10d. was for Reformatory, and £1,013 0s. 11d. for Industrial School cases.

There is a decrease of £26 8s. 2d. in the Reformatory collection, and an increase of £64 1s. 1d. in the Industrial School collection, leaving a net increase of £37 12s. 11d. for 1904 as compared with 1903.

It is satisfactory to have to chronicle that the amount of the parental money collection for last year exceeded the amount collected in 1894 by the sum of £659 13s. 9d. Amongst the causes that influence the amount of the contributions I may mention that the means of enforcing payment of them is an important factor.

Since the Youthful Offenders Act, 1901, came into force, Magistrates have the power to commit to prison defaulting parents who, under Sec. 6 (1) of the Act have been ordered to contribute towards the maintenance of their children in Industrial Schools. This has had a good effect, as parents in most cases prefer to contribute than to go to prison. The most important consideration in enforcing contributions from parents is to make them feel that they cannot evade their parental responsibility.

HEALTH.

During the year under review 72 children died while under order of detention. Of these 30 were boys and 42 girls.

The number discharged during the year by order of the Chief Secretary as being medically unfit for industrial training was 18.

After making allowances for the class of children from which the inmates of Industrial Schools are drawn, I consider the death-rate, which amounts to 8.55 per 1,000 too high.

I have reason still to be dissatisfied with the manner in which the children in some of the schools are clothed and fed. Close attention on the part of Managers to these important matters will tend to lessen the death-rate and will be sure to promote the comfort and general well-being of the children.

In two of the Schools for Junior Boys there were severe epidemics of granular ophthalmia. In both cases I have advised the Managers to suspend work that in any way interfered with the children getting the full benefit of exercise in the open air. The result of the measures adopted in both schools is most gratifying, and it is to be hoped that in a short time this scourge of the schools will be stamped out.

LITERARY TRAINING.

The progress made by the schools as a whole may well be considered satisfactory. The disparity that used to obtain between the best and the worst of the schools is now much less marked than formerly, not because the better schools have fallen away, but because the weaker schools have very much improved.

In reading the standard reached is generally good, but a greater difference is observable among the schools in this subject than, perhaps, in any other. In some schools the reading is intelligent, and the intonation good; whilst in others it is very mechanical, and far from being always correct. In many schools Tablets are too much used for the reading lesson, and slow progress is generally the result. The course of reading is also often too short, and the children have got the whole course by rote, and rely almost entirely on their memory in the reading lesson. This might be obviated by giving them occasional lessons from a different but equally simple reading book. Questions and conversations on the reading lessons are, perhaps, the most important part of it, as they tend to develop the intelligence and reasoning powers of the children, which is a point teachers should always keep in view in all their lessons.

Writing is generally excellent throughout the schools. Head-line copies are now less used in the senior standards, and lessons in writing are more frequently given from the black-board.

Spelling is a subject in which the weaker schools show their weakness prominently; it is best taught by reading, transcription, and composition, with occasional use of oral spelling and dictation.

Arithmetic is also a subject in which the schools differ a good deal. On the whole, I find that the children can answer very well sums to be worked on slates or paper, but the proportion of any class that can answer correctly questions in Mental Arithmetic is still very small in nearly all the schools.

Drawing continues to be well taught, and in the boys' schools manual instruction is now almost universal.

In these subjects many of the schools carry on their classes in connection with the Technical Education Department, and in almost all cases the awards they have received from the Inspector of that Department have been "excellent."

Kindergarten exercises are given in all schools to the junior standards, and an increasing number of the schools have courses of instruction in Elementary Science.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

It is satisfactory to have to record that each successive year sees an improvement in the methods employed for training the children, and that most of the schools have already attained a high level of efficiency in the manner in which the training is carried out.

In the boys' schools the several trades—shoe-making, tailoring, carpentry, smith work, and harness making—are well taught, and, as a result of the training they receive, not much difficulty is experienced in securing places for the lads when they leave school.

As the main industry of this country is agriculture, it is fitting that this subject should have an important place in the school curriculum. I therefore view with approval the fact that increased attention is given to instruction in agriculture and horticulture in the schools. Special facilities are available in most of the schools for giving a thorough training in these subjects. Hence I hope and expect that in a few years they will be so well taught in theory and practice that the boys, who go through a course of training in them, will leave school intelligent workers in both these branches.

The training of the girls in the Industrial Schools is of a high order, while at the same time their literary education is fully equal to that imparted to children in National Schools. Elementary Science, as far as it enables them to take an intelligent interest in the subjects entering into their industrial training, is now taught in all the schools.

Praiseworthy efforts are being made by the managers of all girls' schools to work through the courses of Domestic Science outlined in the Syllabus, which I lately drew up for them. The course of training in this subject, which all the children have now to pass through, is well adapted to qualify them for positions as intelligent, capable servants, or would enable them to manage small households of their own on sound, economic, and sanitary lines. The good effect of the training which the children now receive, is already showing itself by the increased demand on the schools for good servants.

The requirements for efficiently carrying on this work entail increased expenditure, and I consider it a short-sighted policy on the part of some local contributing bodies to have proposed to reduce their contributions to the schools at a time when every encouragement should be given to enable them to develop the methods of teaching on sound, intelligent, educational lines.

I think it a pity that the members of our County Councils and District Councils do not visit these schools and see for themselves how the work, to which they contribute, is done. If they did so, I am sure they would come away with the conviction that their money was well spent.

To the Assistant Inspector and the members of my staff my thanks are due for the assistance I have received from them during the past year.

JOHN FAGAN,

H. M. Inspector of Reformatory and Industrial Schools in Ireland.
